Dear Friends in Christ,

Baptist? What is a Baptist? The people in Labrador don't know what a Baptist is. Many of them think that Baptists are just another cult to be avoided. Pentecostalism, Catholicism, Anglicanism, and Jehovah's Witnesses are the predominant religions in Labrador. Among the native Innu people, Shamanism is gaining a foothold again.

I find it ironic that Labrador's official motto is "Seek ye first the kingdom of God." The Labradorians are seeking for answers, but they are looking in all the wrong places. They are turning to drugs, alcohol, and even suicide. They must hear of the saving grace of the Gospel before it is eternally too late! Pray that God would work in their hearts and open their eyes to the truths of the Word of God!

We have been in a number of churches in the last month. We have visited North Carolina, eastern Virginia, central Virginia, western Virginia, northern Virginia, and Tennessee. These meetings and ministries have been a great encouragement to us these past few weeks.

One of the blessings of being on deputation is meeting new people and seeing old friends. We were privileged to spend some time with some college friends and family while in North Carolina. We love to see our family and friends still working and serving the Lord with their lives. We hope to be able to visit with many others during our travels.

Another church just voted to take us on last Sunday, putting us just over 20% of our needed support. There are also a number of churches that have expressed interest in taking us on for support. Please partner with us in prayer as we have a full schedule of meetings until December. We will be presenting our burden for Labrador in churches from Texas to Ontario and everywhere between. Our desire is to see many people and churches burdened for the people of Labrador.

For the Gospel and His glory,
